Tips For Success

Job & Internship Fairs

SJSU Career Center
www.sjsu.edu/careercenter

SJSU Career Center job fairs are an excellent opportunity for you to gain information about anticipated internships and career positions. It is also a great way to make contacts. Identify which organizations you want to interact with by previewing this list of participants. Log on to the Career Center's website @ www.sjsu.edu/careercenter to research their job descriptions so that you can target your resumes and one-minute commercials. Instructions are on the list of employer participants.

Before The Fair

Identify which organizations you want to talk to at the Fair.

Log on to the Career Center's website @ www.sjsu.edu/careercenter to research their job descriptions and their organization so that you can target your resumes. Directions are on the reverse. Know what the company does and what their key products or services are. This information will be helpful when speaking to employers. Check out the Researching Employers webshop on our website for more tips on how to conduct your research. www.sjsu.edu/careercenter>virtual workshops>job search.

Prepare your resume. "Target" a resume to each employer's job opening. Shape up your resume with a resume critique - - Come to a group resume critique, drop in hours or request an appointment through SpartaJobs. Go to www.sjsu.edu/careercenter for our events calendar and to access SpartaJobs.

Review our Job Fair Success Webshop online to perfect your one minute commercial and employer introduction. Go to www.sjsu.edu/careercenter>virtual workshops>job fair preparation to review the webshop.

Practice presenting yourself as follows:

- Introduce yourself — look confident and initiate a handshake with a smile. Demonstrate a knowledge of the organization. Listen to the conversation with recruiters while you wait in line.
- Prepare a one-minute commercial (your verbal portfolio) — describe your strengths, major, career interests, work experience, extracurricular activities, and the type of career information or job you are seeking. Show how your background and future goals fit the organization.

Prepare questions to ask representatives:

- What types of assignments are given to new graduates or interns?
- What do you look for in candidates? What key skills/experiences are highly desirable?
- Despite the current economy, are there areas within your organization where there is anticipated growth?
- What type (if any) of professional growth/development opportunities are available?
- Do you have any other tips for success in this field?

At The Fair

Dress professionally. Target those organizations that are of interest to you:

- Pick-up and scan the employer's short handout. Determine if your one-minute commercial will remain the same.
- Introduce yourself to the representative.
- Give your resume to the representative. Begin your one-minute commercial. Remember: the one minute commercial is an introduction to begin your conversation. Avoid giving a one minute speech, and instead try to engage in a two way conversation with the employers. Ask questions (example to the left) and listen carefully to the response.
- Ask about the application procedure. A positive attitude pays off! Follow up — get a business card or a contact name. Do not ask questions about salary and benefits.
- Be prepared to be asked to apply online for positions. This is a common practice today and an important step in landing an interview.
- Bring your calendar. Be prepared to schedule interview appointments.
- Be patient and anticipate lines. Visit less crowded organizations first.

After The Fair

If you are given the contact information of the representative you spoke with at the fair, follow-up with an email thanking them for their time and information. Include another resume and any other information requested (completed application, recommendations, or transcripts).

Develop a post job fair plan to keep actively engaged in your job search. Check out the Career Center three part interview webshop at www.sjsu.edu/careercenter>virtual workshops>interviewing, to prepare for success in your interviews. Utilize our additional online tools, including Big Interview, the detailed interviewing section on our website or the Job Search Toolkit.

Be sure to check the job listings on SJSU's SpartaJobs and upload your resume to apply for open positions. Go to www.sjsu.edu/careercenter. There are also many other resources available online and in the Career Resource Lab, Admin. Bldg., room 154
